The office of Gov. Bert T. Combs disclosed Thursday that an invitation was extended to Udall in behalf of Combs, Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, and Herbert D. Vogel, chairman of the board of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Ralph Kavanaugh Is Rotary Speaker

Ralph Kavanaugh was in charge of the program yesterday at the meeting of the Murray Rotary Club. He played a recording of a talk by Earl Nightingale. The talk has been made by Mr. Nightingale over the nation and concerns attitude and outlook on life.

In his talk Mr. Nightingale points out that 100 men at the age of 25 may start out in life and by the time they are all 65, only five of the 100 will be independent financially. One great difficulty is that we tend to conform. He continued, We think more of security than we do in setting up goals for ourselves, he said.

"We become what we think about," was the key point in his talk. He said that if a person thinks on failure, then he will be a failure. If he thinks on success and fixes goals for himself, then he will be a success.

He concluded his talk by saying that "we must control our thinking in order to be successful". Visiting Rotarians were Bill Hagland of Paducah, Ed Wiser of Illinois and Ed Drake of Dawson Springs, Kentucky. Homer Pogue had as a guest, his son Homer Pogue, Jr.

Before the meeting was held a resolution was read by Ralph Woods concerning Verne O. Kyle, Rotarian who died on Wednesday night. A short period of silent prayer was held in his memory.

Support On Interstate 24 Asked By Ward

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — State Highway Commissioner Henry Ward today called for the support of Illinois, Tennessee and Missouri highway officials in opposing a northern route for Interstate Highway 24.

Ward Thursday said he planned to ask the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads to excuse the commonwealth from considering further a northern route for the interstate superhighway.

He said Kentucky will hold to its original position that the proposed route should run east-west as planned, with the Paducah area as the control point.

In a statement Thursday, Ward criticized the Bureau of Public Roads' injection of the issue of the northern route as "unrealistic." "We have found that our planning for highway development in all of western Kentucky from U.S. 41 west has been extremely complicated by this request from the Bureau of Public Roads."

"We have had to delay further programming and action on numerous projects which he had in mind for the improvement of U.S. 41 including the building of a new bridge across the Ohio River between Kentucky and Indiana (between Henderson and Evansville, Ind.)."

He added that continued delays in projects on U.S. 41 and other planned highways in western Kentucky would be "very harmful" to the state's road-building program.

The northern route, suggested for consideration by the U.S. Roads Administrator Rex M. Whitton, would run from Nashville, Tenn., to a junction with Interstate 64 near Evansville.

Original plans called for an Interstate 24 routing between St. Louis and the southeastern corner of the nation through Nashville. Two corridors have been under consideration for routing through Kentucky.

Titan Missile Is Almost Operational

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UPI) — The Titan intercontinental missile still officially in the research and development stage, already has achieved near operational perfection. The 88-foot giant proved it again Thursday night in one of its most spectacular firings in recent months. It was the third successful flight in two weeks and the 27th full success, out of 37 launchings from the Atlantic missile shooting range here.

Titan is expected soon to join Atlas as an operational ICBM with capability of firing a nuclear warhead at ranges up to 10,000 miles.

Thursday night's flight sent a dummy warhead about 5,000 miles down the Atlantic range. No recovery was attempted.

Fear Bus Will Go Further In Lake

LUCERNE, Switzerland (UPI) — Swiss officials feared today that a bus with the bodies of 15 Americans at the bottom of Lake Lucerne would sink deeper in the thick, black mud during salvage operations.

The bus loaded with 38 persons—35 of them American tourists—plunged from a mountain road into the lake Wednesday. Twenty-two persons managed to get out before the bus sank; but 15 Americans—mostly women—were entombed. One other body was recovered shortly after the accident.

Austrian diver Siegfried Naumann, who spent 90 minutes underwater inspecting the bus, reported the wreck was stuck in sludge.

Naumann groped about the bus, 150 feet deep in the picturesque lake, and said over his speaking tube: "The water is black as tar, and the mud... the mud is as black as death."

The expert diver said the mud gripped the bus in a vise that might block any attempt to recover the vehicle with the bodies inside. But Swiss salvage experts planned to attach ropes to the axle and lift the bus.

Humboldt Football Coach Dies While He Is Fishing

Robert Albert Long, 39, head football coach at Humboldt High School, died unexpectedly Wednesday afternoon while fishing at Cypress Creek on Kentucky Lake. Long and his wife, Mickie, had accompanied a group of friends to a cabin on the lake for an outing. He was stricken with a heart attack while fishing from a boat at about 4 p. m., and was dead when an ambulance arrived.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete early today. The body is at Hunt Funeral Home in Humboldt.

Long, a former University of Tennessee athlete and professional football player with the Philadelphia Eagles, would have begun his eighth season as coach of the Humboldt Rams this fall.

Born in Tiptonville, he attended Peabody High School and played football. He attended U-T in the early 1940s, playing tailback on the football team, before Air Force duty in World War II interrupted his sports career. After the war he returned to U-T and again played football, but he received his B. S. and M. A. degrees from Memphis State.

He played in a College All-Star game in Chicago and with the Eagles before joining the Memphis State coaching staff at Memphis State. After two years he served one season as head coach at North-West Junior College in Senatobia, Miss., and from there went to Humboldt.

Survivors include a daughter, a step-daughter and a step-son.

Protest Of Big Three Rejected Today By Soviet

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING

United Press International

BERLIN (UPI) — The Soviets today rejected a Big Three Western protest against East German Communist interference with the free movement of Germans in Berlin. A Soviet embassy spokesman said East Germany was a "sovereign" state and could take the steps it thought necessary. He told a news conference that the Soviet commandant in Berlin would not intervene.

Informed sources reported earlier that East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht had asked Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for permission to seal the East-West Berlin border against the flight of refugees.

The Western Allies Thursday protested against Communist restrictions on movement within the city as a violation of the 1949 agreement which ended the Soviet blockade of the city. They called on the Soviet commandant to take action to end the discriminations without delay.

Questions Validity — The Soviet embassy spokesman said Col. Andrei Solovoy would not intervene. He also questioned the validity of the four-power agreement on Berlin, on the grounds they had not been signed by Communist East Germany. He recalled that the Soviet Western commitment in a note to the Western powers last September asserted the four power agreements on Berlin traffic were signed when there were no German governments.

The report of Ulbricht's appeal to Khrushchev could not be confirmed.

The sources said Ulbricht made a secret flight to Moscow to tell Khrushchev that an immediate settlement of the Berlin problems was necessary.

The sources said they did not know Khrushchev's answer but believed he recommended caution until possible East-West talks on Berlin take place.

Despite the lack of official confirmation, weight was given to the report by the fact that Ulbricht was absent from East Berlin early this week.

Misses Reception — He did not attend a government reception Tuesday for President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana.

The sources said Ulbricht wanted drastic measures to plug the West Berlin hole through which refugees from his regime have been streaming to the West at the rate of 1,000 a day.

He was said to believe that the number of refugees would swell to many thousands a day if something were not done.

The refugee flood started the beginning of last month after Khrushchev threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with the East German regime, thus sealing the division of Germany and ending Allied rights in West Berlin.

Brave Police Checks — More than 1,000 East Germans fled again today despite close Communist police checks at all Berlin-bound travel points in Germany's Soviet Zone.

Thursday, the U. S. British and French military commanders in West Berlin protested to the Soviet commander of East Berlin about restrictions against East Berliners who have jobs in West Berlin.

They have been threatened with jail and economic reprisals and some have lost their identity cards through refusal to quit their West Berlin jobs.

The East German Radio's reaction to this today was to term the protest "provocative" and "hypocritical."

Hijackers Foiled In Attempt To Steal Costly Airliner

Congress Moves To Provide Prison Terms For Sky Pirates

By WILLIAM THEIS

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress moved swiftly today to provide stiff prison terms for sky pirates, and the federal government authorized arming of airline flight crews.

Double-barreled attack to prevent further seizure of U. S. airlines followed the abortive father-son hijacking of a Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jetliner Thursday at El Paso, Tex.

The Senate aviation subcommittee met to consider legislation to provide tough criminal penalties hijacking an airplane. A. S. Chairman Mike Monroney, D-Okla., predicted approval of the measure by nightfall.

Monroney said he expected the subcommittee to approve a modified version of a proposal by Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., which would make hijacking punishable by life imprisonment. The bill would broaden the penalties against piracy on the high seas to cover commercial flights.

In addition, Monroney said, the Senate group probably would recommend 20-year prison terms for anyone threatening flight crews by displaying concealed weapons aboard airliners, also would be prohibited.

The federal crackdown was announced in a six-point memorandum issued by Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby. Halaby said the government would offer a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons plotting to seize an airliner.

He said the FAA had authorized airlines to place armed guards aboard planes.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Why did an Arizona ex-convict and his 16-year-old son hijack a $5 million airliner and try to make the pilot fly it to Fidel Castro's Cuba? UPI reporters William C. Payette and Charles E. Webb looked for the answer in the aftermath of Thursday's sensational airliner pirating.

Here is their report. By UPI Special Reporting Team EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — A federal official said today that Leon Bearden and his 16-year-old son, Cody, hijacked a $5 million jet airliner with the apparent intention of taking it to Havana, selling it to Fidel Castro's government and living like kings on the proceeds.

The federal official is U. S. Commissioner Henry C. Clifton who set $100,000 bond for Bearden, 38, and his son late Thursday on federal charges of kidnapping and flying a stolen plane across state lines.

"All we, the FBI or anyone else could get out of them was that they wanted to go to Cuba and take the plane and sell it," Clifton said.

Was there already a prearranged deal with the Castro government to buy the plane?

Clifton did not know, but he pointed out that the FBI noted that Bearden, an ex-convict on parole, contacted the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City last January and indicated he wanted to go to Cuba.

The Beardens—the son armed with a 45-caliber automatic and the father with a 38-caliber revolver seized the Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet early Thursday on the Phoenix-El Paso leg of a Los Angeles to Houston, Tex., flight.

There were 67 passengers—including the hijackers—and a crew of six on board. Everyone aboard believed at first the hijackers

Little Harvey Haddix Turns In Brilliant Pitching As Pirates Swamp Cardinals 19-0

By JOE SARGIS
 United Press International
 Christmas came two years and two months too late for little Harvey Haddix of the Pittsburgh Pirates.
 Haddix, you'll recall, pitched 12 perfect innings against the Milwaukee Braves on May 26, 1959, but his teammates couldn't score a single run for him. The Braves finally ended the spell with a run in the 13th for a 1-0 victory and struck baseball's best-pitched game wound up in just so much exercise for Haddix.
 Thursday night, however, base runners were scurrying around the bases so fast and so often at St. Louis that even Harvey had trouble keeping track of them as the Pirates buried the Cardinals, 19-0, to tie a 55-year old National League record.
 Practically lost in the confusion was Haddix' pitching. Harvey, who'll be 36 in September, gave up just four hits, three of them in the third inning, struck out seven batters and walked just

 Lead Attack
 Smoky Burgess with two home runs and six runs batted in, Dick Stuart with a grand slam homer and five runs batted in, and Roberto Clemente with five hits in six at-bats and two r.b.i.'s, spearheaded the Pirates' 24-hit attack against three St. Louis pitchers.
 The assault produced the biggest shutout victory in National League history since the Cubs beat the Giants by the same score on June 7, 1906. The American League record is 21-0, set by the Tigers over the Indians in 1901 and matched by the Yankees over the A's in 1939, while the all-time major league record is 28-0, set by Providence over Philadelphia in 1883.
 Meanwhile, the first-place Cincinnati Reds made it 15 in a row over the hapless Philadelphia Phillies, beating them, 7-1, the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers kept pace by nipping the San Francisco Giants, 4-3, in 10 innings and the Braves defeated the Cubs, 5-2, in other NL games.
 Cut Yankee Lead
 In the American League, the Detroit Tigers cut the Yankees' lead to 1 1/2 games by beating the Washington Senators, 2-1, while the A's throttled New York, 6-1; the White Sox overcame a four-run, first-inning deficit to beat the Indians, 8-6; rookie Don Schwall in pitching the Boston Red Sox to a 4-0 win over the Los Angeles Angels, and Hal Brown extended his consecutive scoreless inning streak to 32 as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Minnesota Twins, 3-0.
 Ken Johnson, whom the Redlegs purchased from Toronto of the International League on July 21, went the route to gain his second straight victory as Cincinnati maintained its one-game lead over the Dodgers. Frank Robinson batted in two runs with a homer and singled to extend his league-leading figures in both departments to 33 and 96.
 John Roseboro's 16th homer in the bottom of the ninth enabled the Dodgers to tie the score against the Giants at 3-3 and they won the game in the next inning on three errors.

Jackson, 41, wanted in Dayton, O., to face double murder charges, was captured when he was grabbed from behind by bystander Guillermo Zamora, an ex-Marine. Police said Jackson admitted shooting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larkin fatally in their Dayton home after they fired him from his handyman job. The photos were taken by Miami photographer Albert Coyo, who was at the airport to cover the arrival of a plane from Havana, Cuba.

WHO does not marvel at the flight of a bird? The roaring jet does not seem such a miracle. It cannot fly with the same grace and beauty and ease.

Every bird must learn to fly. The mother bird pushes her fledgling out of the nest. The young bird falls helplessly until its wings discover the invisible support of the air.

If our lives are to rise beyond frail human nature, we too must learn to fly... on wings of faith. We must discover the invisible support of God's presence and power.

Come to Church next Sunday. You can find there the invisible support of God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WILBUR AND WOOFER

Recovery

Recovery has its own rewards. Wilbur, if a bit demonstrative, there's another kind of recovery, and its rewards may never have to be demonstrated. The way to be sure is to be ready. That's why thousands of Air Force Reservists are organized into Recovery Squadrons at civil airports and landing strips across the U.S. Their job: to make sure that in case of attack on this country, our re-strike forces — returning from combat missions — have a safe place to set down.

Air Force Reserve Recovery units are the "helping hand" that will enable us to strike again and again at a nuclear aggressor — the "helping hand" that may well determine our national survival.

Temperament, Injures Star

By VERNON SCOTT

UPI Hollywood Correspondent
LONDON (UPI) — If you are Marlon Brando or Elizabeth Taylor it doesn't matter if you have a reputation for being temperamental or "difficult."

If you are France Nuyen it can be fatal.

France is a startlingly beautiful Eurasian, French and Chinese who found herself saddled with a Hollywood hex — "Too difficult to work with."

In the middle of her starring role in "The World of Suzie Wong" she was bounced from the picture and became a celluloid pariah.

That was almost two years ago and France didn't work for a year. "It has happened to other young actresses who were never heard from again. But France is making the most of a second chance."

"It was almost as if there were a planned campaign to have me chased from the 'Suzie Wong' picture," she said. "Everything I did was automatically wrong — make-up, wardrobe and other things."

By the time I returned from Hong Kong locations I was on the outside. The word was out. I was a trouble maker and nobody wanted me.

Can't Find Work
"My name made everyone shudder. So for a whole year my career was over. I couldn't find work."

Then Jack Webb, like Sergeant Friday on his "Dragnet" TV show came to the rescue.

"Jack said he had faith in me and signed me for 'The Last Time I Saw Archie.' Everything went smoothly. Then Jack called 20th Century-Fox and asked for part of my contract. This made the studio open its eyes."

"Now I have my second opportunity for a big role in an important picture and I know this will be a happy movie."

France has landed the plum feminine lead in "Satan Never Sleeps" with Bill Holden and Clifton Webb. She plays an innocent Chinese girl who falls in love with a priest.

Future Bright
The French-born actress believes she has been saved from anonymity and faces a bright future — and not just playing Orientals.

"With a blonde wig and proper makeup I can play any nationality, French, German, American, anything. I once had my picture taken in occidental makeup and my own mother didn't recognize me."

For further proof France tricked boyfriend Rod Taylor. She visited him on the set of TV's "Hong Kong" series, decked

Whip Lash Can Bring Injury

By DELOS SMITH

UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The modern whip-lash is quite capable of injuring the brain and frequently does. So concluded two investigators who set out to disprove the common medical idea that the distressing symptoms of the whip-lash's victims are much more neurotic than physical.

The whip-lash works automatically. A person is sitting in a car. Another car smashes into it, usually from behind. The person's spine becomes a whip. It is moved rapidly in one direction, and then snaps back in the other.

The whip-lash's victims have become innumerable. Much medical opinion has given them little comfort. This opinion assumed the neck would be the lashing knot of the whip. In the absence of demonstrable neck injuries, it viewed the complaints of the victims as psychosomatic — and neurotic.

But Drs. Fernando Torres and Sidney K. Shapiro of the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, took the view the brain was the lashing knot. The whip, they figured, could snap the brain against the inside of the skull. Or it could injure brain tissue by rapid acceleration followed by deceleration no less rapid.

They began comparing the symptoms and the electric brain wave patterns of persons complaining of whip-lash pains and of persons who had suffered direct and quite visible injuries to their heads. They kept on comparing until they had 45 persons of each kind.

But the whip-lash victims had no visible injuries to the head. Those whose heads had been snapped against windshields or steering wheels were excluded from the comparisons.

Both groups complained equally of headaches, nervousness, tenseness, restlessness, insomnia, easy excitability, difficulty in concentrating and dizziness.

Of those who had suffered direct injuries to the head, 44 per cent showed abnormal brain wave patterns. Of those who had been whip-lashed, 46 per cent showed brain wave patterns no less abnormal. The doctors reported this to the official organ of the American Neurological Association.

out in wig, occidental clothes and a good makeup job. Taylor turned on his face when he discovered it was me," she giggled.

France will spend the next two months in London proving to producer-director Leo McCarey that she is the most cooperative actress in the British Isles.

Who knows, if France fulfills her promise as an actress and boxoffice draw, she might find herself in the Brando-Taylor category. Then she can be as difficult as she chooses.

STAIR WELL—What can happen during a fire on the roof is illustrated in this San Francisco scene. Water cascades down the apartment building stairway to spread throughout the building, thus helping along the $100,000 damage bill.

How To Have A Lively Lawn

A lively lawn is a lawn that's full of vitality. Lush and green throughout the growing season, respectable in appearance even in dormancy, when browning is most likely to occur.

A lively lawn, in short, has a good turf.

When we speak of a good turf, most of us, were not thinking of golf links. All we're after is a presentable lawn, one which looks just as good or a little better than the neighbors' and one which can take a little punishment from the kids and can survive a few barbecue parties.

The most vital ingredient in a good lawn — assuming you've purchased quality seed and sown it according to direction — is water. Water should be applied in the cool of the day, and infrequent, thorough soakings are much more effective than continuous shallow watering. You want the water-seeking roots of your lawn to grow down, where they'll be secure from heat and frost alike, firmly anchoring the grass plant, rather than up.

Grasses differ considerably in their water requirements. Warm-season grasses in a hot, dry climate may require once-a-week heavy watering during summer.

Cool-season grasses, growing in a cool, humid climate, require watering only in time of prolonged drought. If drought is severe, even these grasses should be watered.

Too much in hot weather, weed-grass growth is encouraged. As grasses vary in their water needs, so do they vary in the amount of clipping they can withstand. It is best, as a rule of thumb, to clip back only one-third of the length of the grass blade or a maximum of one inch at a mowing. Blue-grasses and fescues grow best at a height of about two inches. Tighter turfs, formed by the creeping grasses (bent grass, Bermuda and Zoysia), should be held to a height of 1 1/2 inch or even less, to choke back weed growth.

Frequency of mowing will be determined by the growth rate of the grass. In spring, twice-a-week mowing may be required, and in summer, when growth slows down, your lawn may need no cutting for several weeks.

To find out what lawn seed mixture is most suitable to your area, check with your seedling or garden center. A little extra money spent on getting exactly the right kind of seed for your area will save you hours of work later on in the year. Caution: don't try to save by getting a weak grass which will brown out in the heat of summer unless you like bald spots.

Incidentally, you may be able to beautify your lawn, for pennies by relieving the sweeping green turf with occasional small garden areas of annual flowers or even vegetable gardens with flower borders.

HONORS HANDICAPPED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has proclaimed the week beginning Oct. 1 as national Employ the Physically Handicapped Week.

They began comparing the symptoms and the electric brain wave patterns of persons complaining of whip-lash pains and of persons who had suffered direct and quite visible injuries to their heads. They kept on comparing until they had 45 persons of each kind.

They began comparing the symptoms and the electric brain wave patterns of persons complaining of whip-lash pains and of persons who had suffered direct and quite visible injuries to their heads. They kept on comparing until they had 45 persons of each kind.

But the whip-lash victims had no visible injuries to the head. Those whose heads had been snapped against windshields or steering wheels were excluded from the comparisons.

Both groups complained equally of headaches, nervousness, tenseness, restlessness, insomnia, easy excitability, difficulty in concentrating and dizziness.

Of those who had suffered direct injuries to the head, 44 per cent showed abnormal brain wave patterns. Of those who had been whip-lashed, 46 per cent showed brain wave patterns no less abnormal. The doctors reported this to the official organ of the American Neurological Association.

Farmer Who Opposes Props For Crops Gives His Story

EDITORS NOTE: Farmer William T. Smith, 45, of Big Flats, N. Y., recently won national attention by buying a Cadillac car with federal farm subsidies. Smith said he did it to demonstrate his opposition to all farm support programs. The idea drew both praise and criticism all the way up to Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman. Recently Smith was ordered to pay a fine for overproduction of his 1960 wheat crop. He said he would not pay in the following dispatch, he tells why he opposes governmental props for farm commodities.

By WILLIAM T. SMITH
As Written for UPI
BIG FLATS, N. Y. (UPI) — I operate a dairy and poultry farm with about 150 head of Holsteins, about 80 of them milkers. I have about 1,500 laying hens. My farm has about 1,200 acres of which about 600 acres are crop land. I have 10 year-round employees, two of whom have been on the farm for 25 years.

I was graduated from the College of Agriculture at Cornell University in 1938 and went to work for my father at $75 a month. For 10 years, I operated the farm on shares. At my father's death in 1950 I purchased the farm from my mother at an appraised estate value. Since then I have added more poultry and modernized the farm.

As a matter of principle I have always opposed government intervention in agriculture.

Fined $800
In 1954 and 1955 I was given a compulsory wheat quota along with all farmers. I refused to comply and was subsequently fined over $800 for producing wheat which I fed to my own livestock.

When the Kennedy administration passed the voluntary feed grain bill I decided not to participate. Next I thought I might take the money and give it to charity or to some organization which would fight the government giveaway program. Then I decided to purchase the Cadillac as a symbol to demonstrate the absurdity of the subsidy program.

Over a period of a month my family and I worked on the details and anticipated it would cause a stir locally.

The nationwide publicity this received surprised us greatly. It has been encouraging that the far greater proportion of our mail has supported our stand.

Calls It Political
This administration's approach to the farm problem is purely as all farm and programs have been in the past 25 years.

The farm surplus began to build up after World War II when Congress lacked the intestinal fortitude to drop the farm supports to increase food production during the war. Prices for several commodities have been supported above the market value by government price support. This encourages tremendous unneeded surplus.

The soil bank plan passed by Congress during the Eisenhower administration was another expensive, misguided failure.

The feed grain program, of course, is voluntary, but surely would become compulsory as the present wheat program. The wheat program has decreased acreage by 40 per cent. However, we still maintain the production of the original acreage.

Wheat Quota Vote To Be On August 24th.

Wheat producers will vote on August 24 on whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1962 wheat crop. R. O. Wilson, Chairman, State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded growers today. Quotas for the crop were proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture on May 12 but setting of the referendum date was deferred, pending action to provide an improved wheat program for the crop.

In setting the August 24 referendum date, Secretary Freeman said: "The decision that farmers make is extremely important to them and to the rest of the Nation not only for 1962 but also for many years to come. The program available with quotas in effect would be far different from that which could be operated without quotas."

were Cubans. When they landed at El Paso on the pilot's plane that he had to refuse to get to Cuba, the Bear- den let all of the passengers except four go. They kept the four passengers—who volunteered to stay behind—and six crew members hostages.

They ordered the pilot to take off after the plane's tanks were filled. FBI agents and border patrolmen, acting on President Kennedy's orders, chased the taxiing plane in squad cars and shot both the tires and one engine with submachineguns and rifles.

Finally, after more than nine hours, Leonard Gilman, assistant regional commissioner of the Immigration Service, stopped the elder Bear- den. He laid Bear- den's jaw open and broke Gilman's finger. An FBI man and a border patrolman subdued the son.

FIVE DAY FORECAST

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The advanced forecast for the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, prepared by the U. S. Department of Commerce Weather Bureau.

Temperatures for the period will average two to five degrees below the seasonal normals of 77 degrees.

Rainfall will average around one inch in southeast Kentucky and one-half inch over the remainder of the state, with scattered thunderstorms over the weekend.

Farming Is Business

The Cochran-Freeman bill recently defeated in committee would have made all 250 farm commodities subject to the secretary of agriculture's jurisdiction. Mr. Freeman has made the statement that he can't do any farm commodity which does not need subsidy and control.

This can only mean the complete socialization of agriculture. Mr. Freeman has referred to the average farmer with an income of $1,000 a year as a man who needs help. Ten per cent of the nation's farmers produce 90 per cent of the nation's food. No government is going to retard dropouts of the inefficient, small farmers.

In the past 10 years there has been a decrease of 25 per cent in the number of farms even with government programs.

Farming is a business and no longer a sentimental way of life. Farm programs must be based on potential yield and the little farmer is not getting help. If he has nothing he gets nothing. The large farmers are the only ones able to divert farm acreage and benefit from the program.

Adjusting Output Is Farmer's Real Problem

By Larry May

A recent daily newspaper headline reads: "Farmers Better Not At Adjusting Output." Another says: "House Adopts Plan To Cut Wheat Crop." One wonders "who is doing what?" Are farmers adjusting, or is government regulating?

Farmers are doing a better job than their fathers did of keeping abreast of developments that affect farm prices and are quicker to shift production. Nobody denies this. Many farmers watch estimates of production as his business counterpart watches the stock market reports. If heavy marketing is forecast for a particular period, production plans are modified, if possible, to bypass that selling season.

Switching of production often works for livestock and poultry. Even so, the price frequently drops dangerously near the break-even point. Everytime it does, producers take a licking and some find jobs in town. Some come back to the farm, but a good many don't return.

Perhaps crop farmers — wheat growers, for example — aren't able to control their production. Wheat is subject to the whims of wind and rain and no one can, with much certainty, forecast yields. But should it be necessary for the government to force farmers to cut down on the amount of land a farmer can plant to wheat? Such action may not affect his production. It wouldn't even if the grower studied estimated plantings and yield forecasts and voluntarily decided that this year would be a good year to spend some time fishing and less working.

Hog and poultry producers haven't found that force was necessary or even desirable for the majority of growers.

If all of the effort to write a farm bill — not to speak of the money spent on it — were put into developing a more reliable crop reporting system, how much more effectively a farm could gauge what his production should be.

But then I guess, nothing could ever cut down on windjamming. Something else — maybe even another catch-all farm bill — would still call forth great quantities of jabber with little trickles of fact shining like crystal here and there — some of them even appearing in the Congressional Record.

KING AIDS VICTIMS
CAIRO (UPI) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia, has donated about $600,000 to the United Nations victims of the battle of Bizerte, Jed- Radio reported Wednesday. Part of the money will be used for reconstruction of the port city, damaged by French and Tunisian fire.

Our Soil - Our Strength

By Robert Brown

Soil Conservation Society

Yandall Wrathe and your writer attended the national convention of the Soil Conservation Society of America at Purdue University, July 31 to Aug. 2. The convention attracted over two thousand conservationists from throughout the United States and Canada. High- light of the convention was an address by secretary of agriculture Orville Freeman.

During the month of July eight soil conservation district cooperators completed over four acres of waterways, four farmers constructed farm ponds, one drainage ditch was completed, eight farmers were assisted in developing complete conservation plans for their farms and one conservation plan was revised.

Archie Edmonds, east of Murray, stopped by the SCS office recently to discuss his conservation plans. He says the pond constructed on his farm about this time last year has solved his stockwater problems. Edmonds is convinced that it pays to fence a pond and pipe water to stockwater tanks.

We at the SCS office area always glad to hear how conservation practices turn out, both good and bad.

Farms on which survey have been completed for drainage work are: C. C. Causey, near New Providence, Ruford Perry, Alcorn, Grady Stubblefield, New Concord, Sylvester Paschal, South Pleasant Grove, and Sherwood Potts, Coldwater. Bert Collins, New Providence, tells me he is ready to build the drainage ditch he planned on his farm last fall.

SCS engineers have completed survey work on dam No. 8 on the West Fork of Clarks River. Geologists are drilling the area where the dam will be located to determine if the soil is suitable for building the dam.

Calloway County Soil Conservation District Supervisors Marvin Hill, Lowell Palmer and B. H. Dixon attended the area SCD meeting at Mayfield July 28. SCD supervisors from 14 western Kentucky counties were present. Plans had been made to visit one of the floodwater-retarding dams on the Ohio Watershed, but the heavy rain cancelled that part of the program. Lieut. Gov. Wilson Wyatt spoke to the supervisors about the forestry program in Kentucky.

Mr. Wyatt told the group that many uses can be found for forestry products within the next 10 to 15 years.

Billy Joe Williams, is doing extensive conservation work on his farm east of Murray. Waterways are being shaped and seeded to fescue, gullied areas are being leveled and seeded to pasture-mixing, ponds are being constructed to provide water for his grade D dairy. The work was planned by the SCS and ACP is assisting in cost-sharing on the work.

Feed Grain Supply For 1961 To Be 20 Million Tons Less Than '60

How To Pick And Choose For Budget Bargains In Your Garden

Get a bigger yield out of a small-vegetable garden by planting climbers.

A meal in a cafeteria can prove to be a mighty expensive proposition, if we break loose more of our better judgment and order every dish in sight. The same holds true when planting a budget garden.

Make a chart and put down the potential yield of vegetables from each packet of seeds and the cost per packet. The smaller the plot, the more the comparative going market price of the same amount of fresh vegetables. This way, you'll be able to make a rough estimate of which vegetables, planted in your own garden, will save you the most money.

Practically every family has food preferences, so if your family is unusually fond of certain vegetables, plan to plant more of the popular varieties than would ordinarily be found in a garden.

Be sure and get top yield out of your garden plot by avoiding vegetables which take up a lot of space to grow. You can grow all the vegetables an average family of four can eat during the summer on an area 20 x 40 feet, provided you make use of your garden air rights.

The smaller the plot, the more important it is to plant climbers—such as tomatoes, cucumbers, pole snaps, lima beans and tall peas.

If you have the space, plan to plant enough extra vegetables to take care of the winter months, and eat the surplus.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department estimates the feed grain supply for 1961-62 at about 210 million tons. This would be 20 million tons less than the record supply last year.

The feed grain supply for 1961-62 includes the crop estimated as of July 1 at 125 million tons plus a prospective carry over of a round 85 million tons.

A department review of the feed grain situation said the 1961 crop probably will fall below consumption demands. This would result in a reduction in carry over from the 1961 record. It would be the first decline in stocks since 1951-52.

The 1961 feed grain crop will be nearly 20 per cent below the record crop of 1960 and the small est in five years if the July prospects materialize.

The smaller production this year is largely the result of smaller acreages of corn and sorghum and drought in the northern plains which lowered yields of oats and barley. The 18 per cent reduction in total corn acreage and 26 per cent in sorghums reflects the extensive participation in the 1961 emergency feed grain program.

Participating farmers signed up to take 20.1 million acres out of corn and 6.6 million acres out of sorghum, using 1959 and 1960 average acreages as the base.

The total corn supply, based on July 1 prospects, was estimated as 5.2 billion bushels grain only, 480 million bushels less than the record supply last year. The corn crop for harvest as grain was estimated at 3.17-billion bushels, a reduction of more than 700 million bushels from the 1960 crop and a little below the 1955-59 average of 3.25 billion bushels.

The oat supply for 1961-62 is 9 per cent smaller than in 1960-61, and the barley supply is down 10 per cent. Smaller supplies of these grains are largely the result of drought in the northern plains. The sorghum acreage for 1961 is 26 per cent below 1960, indicating a substantial reduction in the grain sorghum crop.

BOUND FOR EUROPE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger planned to fly to Paris tonight for meetings with Western press chiefs on information policies concerning the Berlin crisis.

GUESTS OF ROYALTY
MONACO (UPI) — Princess Soraya and American television star Hugh O'Brien spent Wednesday as guests of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco at their anchor-ville villa high above the principality.

ON ACCOUNT OF NO ENVELOPE—One of the many contributions to flood victims arriving in Charleston, W. Va., from over the nation is this check for $1 from St. Petersburg, Fla.—no envelope and the address on back of check.
